Discussion Questions and Suggested Readings for “What’s the Message?” Lessons

Lesson Seven

Questions:

There is an old adage that says “he who does not learn the lessons of history is condemned to repeat its mistakes.” Do you see that happening at the Garden of Eden, then with the flood, and again at Babel?

Does it remind you of a parent teaching a small child that when you touch something hot it will burn your hand? Then why do people keep making the same mistake?

Is it because we are still wanting to be like God and focus on ourselves rather than Him? How do you see it?

Suggested reading for further study:

The Key, by John Philip Cohane, from Crown Publishers, Inc. This book may now be out of print and difficult to find, but it is an intriguing attempt to trace the dispersion of the families of Noah after God scattered the people at Babel.
